HopgoodGanim Lawyers is proud to have three partners named as Finalists in the Lawyers Weekly Partner of the Year awards for 2017.

Geoff Wilson is a finalist in the Family Law category. Geoff co-manages our Family Law practice, one of the largest in Australia. He is a Queensland Law Society Accredited Family Law Specialist and has practiced in family law for almost three decades. His specialisation includes relationship agreements, representation of third parties, trusts and property disputes.

Michele Muscillo is a finalist in the Commercial category. Michele has practised exclusively in corporate law for the duration of his legal career and has extensive experience in mergers and acquisitions and capital markets transactions, including the negotiation of significant commercial contracts and agreements.

Hayden Delaney is a finalist in the Intellectual Property category. Hayden leads the firm's Intellectual Property and Technology team. Hayden is sought out for his expertise on complex technology projects and transactions, intellectual property management and intellectual property enforcement - both in domestic and international matters.

We wish them all the best for the black-tie event in April.
